

Patty was girl (I liked)

Patty was a girl I liked
She wasn't always easy but she was alright
She had her mother's nose and her daddy's hairdo
But she changed it every week
And she would never shave her legs

Patty was a girl I liked
I took her out for dinner one night
She ordered a half chicken and a side of brownies
But she never took a bite
She left without a word and she stole my lighter
I thought that I was bright but she was brighter
Whenever I was right she was righter
Patty was a girl I liked

Patty was a girl I liked
She jumped out of the back of my mind
She had her mother's nose and her daddy's ego
But when I looked into her eyes
She made me feel so much better
Patty was a girl I liked