

Lipsticky slow

You glow like a firefly with sunburned cheeks
Whenever I run into you
And we like to play it cool
So that everybody around us would think we're just friends
But we never pull it off right

I sew your eyes
I sew your eyes
I sew your mouth
For making me so
Lipsticky slow

Can I blame it on you
If I can't see the streetsigns ahead
Or if I wake up at 5 am
To think about the things you said
And the memories of our last goodbye
They slow my feet down and I

Sew your eyes
I sew your eyes
I sew your lips
For making me so
Lipsticky slow

I sew your eyes
I sew your eyes
I sew your smile
For making me so
Lipsticky slow
