

Sister Clone

Sister Clone

sits by the telephone her head's an open crack she drinks her coffee black holds the cup between her knees

sister clone

is on her own her bed's a football field a vast and empty field
don't let it get too deep

sister clone

is all alone
her friends are dead and gone she hates the morning sun
don't let it get too deep