

Where's Your VJ Hiding?

So where's your VJ hiding?
U need someone to throw a light on you
I checked the doors and the bathrooms
And I checked upstairs

No, he won't let the light in
He never really cared 'bout what u do
U need his sparks to feel special
Or someone who cares

So you need your moons to make it happen
U need your stars to guide your way
U better watch your boots and where u're stepping
Cause you don't see the stars too well

Where's your VJ?
Where's your VJ hiding?

You say you're sure he will make it
And u hope the soundguy shows up too
He'll see no money, no make up
And he'll see no crowd

And if they don't come, we'll fake it
It's nothing that the waiters couldn't do
We'll ask them to buy some candles
And bring it up loud

So you need your moons to make it happen
And you've plugged your eyebrows all the way
I better watch your boots and where u're stepping
Cause I don't see your brows too well

Where's your VJ?
Where's your VJ hiding?
